Fifth Sunday of Lent

I am back from my annual vacation. Last month as soon as I reached India, before the beginning of Lent, I baptized my second nephew named ‘Leo Jowin’, since he was born on the memorial day of St. Josaphat (Nov 12). I was saying Holy Mass in my home parish with the parish priest. I really thank our Spring Valley Rosary Makers who gave me 1,000 Rosaries to bring to India. Back in India, they have a tradition of wearing rosaries around their neck during the season of Lent, so I gave our rosaries to the parish priest and he blessed them on Ash Wednesday and gave to all the people. I had my annual one week retreat and spent days with my family. It was really warm the temperature between 75–95 degrees. I missed our Wisconsin snow. I sincerely thank our Deacon and our parish secretary who arranged priests for Holy mass during my absence.

We are just one week away from the Holy Week and our celebration of God’s love shown in the passion, death and resurrection of Jesus. For us Christians, this season of Lent is a time of special grace in which we experience the presence of a personal God who cares and loves us. Our response is to transform ourselves and live according to His will. We want to do something new and come to Him in obedience and freedom. Before Him we acknowledge our weakness and we know that He is the one who supports us and builds with us a new relationship. We ought to change our lives during Lent and come closer to Him. Therefore, the Church calls this season as a joyful time, because it is our preparation for the future joy of Easter that approaches us, bringing His blessings, mercy and forgiveness.

As we approach to the end of our Lenten season, we are reminded of our last opportunity to cooperate with God’s graces and His benevolent love. It is He invites us to enter deep into His mystery and look for His unlimited love. We have the Gospel of today telling us of the woman caught in the act of adultery. Jesus protects her and forgives her completely, not before asking her to reform her life. Certainly she would choose to be His follower for, through forgiveness He brought divine love in her.
